Yo my name is Ravi,
and I'm a beast at English.
I'm Apple on this class.
Call me a genius.*

In high school, no,
I couldn't write a thesis,
but Ms. Johnson taught me
to make my writing seamless.

Yeah man, I mean this.
At first I was so squeamish,
but hittin' up the Writing Center
strengthened up my weakness.

Read this. Write that.
Yeah that was my class.
If essays were some heart attacks,
then I'm a triple bypass.

Stay ethical with ethos.
I reason with logos.
UGA campus,
guys swaged out in Polos.

Then I, am finna, do emma, any way.
Watson, Roberts, Stone. Easy A

Paper 1. Paper 2. Paper 3 I must redo.
We all in this together. That is why we peer review.

Writing is a tough road.
The deadline is at five though.
Open Office. Save. Projects, upload.

I put my thoughts on paper.
English used to bore me though.
I put my thoughts together
like cookies on an Oreo.

The more we write, the more we know.

This ain't a fiction story though.
Now give me an award for this killer ePortfolio.

*Genius was a theme of our course.
